SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 3, 1886 .- Uncle George Heart has lain down on the ocratic party, because he saw the boys were trying to work him for his sack; and the party has lain down on Uncle George Stoneman because he hadn't any sack to be worked. In this State it seems that people don't know whom to kick. Uncle George Hearst whom to kiek. Uncle George hearst has kicked the party, and the party in turn has kicked poor old Gen. Stone-man. The man whom the party wanted, would not have the party; the man who wanted the party, could not get it. This was a great relief in the one case, from the results which obtained in both conventions in spite of it. It was notorious at the Los Angeles convention that the Higgins contingent was for Swift long before they reached Los Angeles, and as early as the first day of the Los Angeles convention Boss Higgins came to me on the street, near the Nadeau Hotel, and told me that, after the fourth or fifth ballot, his entire force. the fourth or fifth ballot, his entire force | San Diego Union. 1 would go over to Swift, and asked me, The expected has happened in the as a friend of Gen. For a month past it has been notorious that Boss Buckley had made up his slate with Bartlett for Governor and E.

B. Pond for Mayor, with the distinct understanding with certain Republican managers that the State and legislative tickets of his party were to be sacrificed in exchange for the city and county government. There has been no pretense to any secrecy as to this matter. government. There has been no pre-tense to any secrecy as to this matter. Legislature a concerted movement is to be made on the part of Oakland and Los Angeles to secure the passage of an equitable charter for cities of the second class. In the case of Los Angeles, at least, some better fundamental law than that by which it is at present regulated is an imperative necessity. Oakland may be, and doubtless is, in the same predicament.

About two months ago a communication was received from Mayor Plater, of Oakland, suggesting the desirability of cities of the second class, and asking that steps be taken to formulate the re-

Mr. Cohn has devoted a good deal of time to the work of formulating his ideas and those of his conferes, and the result appears in the form of a pamphlet in legal brief style, which is submitted for discussion, public and private. After it shall have always filled with credit the offices private. After it shall be placed before the Committee of Twenty-one for adoption, amendment, or rejection. present form of city government, which can only be glanced at here.

The yearly salaries of the city officers are specified as follows: Mayor $2,500; assessor, $4500 (with no other allowance for deputies); Police Judge, $2400; City Attorney, $2400; Tax and License Collector, $3500; Chief of Police, $2000; Councilmen, $2500; City Engineer. $2500: Anditor. $2500: Andi The city is to be divided into five wards, with one Councilman elected from each by general vote. sit as a fire commission, one day as a police commission, the other three days being devoted to general usefulness.

It will be seen that this method comprehends a small body of men, from whom, nearly their whole time is to be required, and who are to be paid fairly for their services. This has long been considered a wholesome plan, and has worked well in cities elsewhere. The Mayor, by the new system, would be relieved of his duties as a magistrate, and these duties would be placed upon he shoulders of a Police Judge—where hey ought to have been long ago.

A feature will become clearer will become clearer will become clearer will become clearer and there are no State issues of any consequence, everything being lost sight of beneath the shadows of the great national questions; and it is perhaps just as well that party lines be drawn in this way. Mr. Cleveland is no doubt anxious to know whether he has gained there are no State and it is perhaps just as well that party lines be drawn in this way. Mr. Cleveland is no doubt anxious to know whether he has gained average by 5000 citizens. At the Opera House he was congratulated by Gov. Dowes and others. His portrait appears in to-day's Thuss.

John Fitzgerald, the newly-app President of the National Irish Land This was a great relief in the one case, and source of great pain in the other. Some of the boys here were figuring on Senator Fair, formerly of Nevada; but the wily Jim evidently concluded that it was cheaper to buy glory in Nevada than in Californis, and he wanted none of it.

Until this morning it looked as though the Democratic gathering was really a convention of delegates, but later in the day it became evident that there was a power behind the throne, which had taken charge and was shaping the crude materiel into one general direction, and when in the afternoon Col. Fred. Crocker and S. T. Gage were seen to the Competence and wealth have leaders. Competence and wealth have League, was born in Ireland in 1831,

The Bulletin this afternoon, with much complacency, congratulates the people of California on the fact that the two candidates for Governor went into the convention without the votes of the Presidency of the National Land their own county; that Switt League on the 19th day of August, their own county; that Switt League on the 19th day of August, had only 12 votes out of the 19th day of August, 103 allowed to San Francisco on the first ballot; and that Bartlett had but League, and should he make himself 13 and that both centiemen were 13, and that both gentlemen were nomina ed in spite of the bosses in this city. The Bulletin, having been outgeneraled by the bosses, and made use of to play into their hands, is trying to squeeze out some kinl of satisfaction from the results which obtained in both conventions. PALMER'S NIEUE.

PALMER'S NIEUE.

The Colton Semi-Tropic has just dug up a lively sensation about a San Jose carpenter of 60 and his 20-year-old "niece." Paimer, the hero, came around to lick the editor, but contented himself with an explanation.

"He commenced by informing us that he was a man of meane; that he had $8,000 in a bank in San Jose, and that he said Ella Brown, the young woman accompanying him, was a niece of his; that owing to the persecutions of a stop-fasher, who had attempted to outrage her person, Miss Brown was forced to leave her home, and that she had not done the girl in the house and did everything to make her comfortable, and that, being her relative, he might have laken some privileges (as a relative, of course,) with the girl, in the way of caresing her, etc. He said he had not done the girl any harm, but that his wife became jeal-ous of his attentions to his ward, and some very disagreeable scenes followed. He said the systect to the amount of a stop-fasher, who had attempted to outrage her person, Miss Brown was forced to leave her home, and that she had had not done the girl any harm, but that his wife became jeal-ous of his attentions to his ward, and some very disagreeable scenes followed. He said the systect to an in leaving Sau Jose he thought it nothing more than any of the stop of the whole thing was that his wife offered to give him $500 in coin if he would give her a deed to certain property and leave the State. This he had a forced to give him $500 in coin if he would give her a deed to certain property and leave the State. Thi thing to make her comfortable, and that, being her relative, he might have taken some privileges (as a relative, of course.) with the girl, in the way of caressing her, etc. He said he had not done the girl any harm, but that his wife became jealous of his attentions to his ward, and some very disagreeable scenes followed. He said the upshot of the whole thing was that his wife offered to give him $500 in coin if he would give her a deed to certain property and leave the State. This he said he agreed to, and in leaving Sau Jose he thought it nothing more than right that he should take Ella along with him and afford her a protection of which she stood so much in need.

"Now comes the sequel. Palmer claims Miss Brown as his nicee. Upon arriving in Colton he and the girl occupied the same room all night. There were two beds in the room, in which he says they slept, Miss Brown in one and he in the other. After leaving the first hotel and taking up quarters in another lodging house, he procured two rooms which were connected by a door between the two. At their new quarters, they were registered as Mr. Palmer and Mrs. Palace.

"Palmer did not think it wrong that he should occupy the same room with a young and beautiful woman, only 20 years of age, all one night, because there were two beds in the room in which they stayed. He did not explain why Miss Brown was registered as 'Mrs. Palace' at the last hotel, either.

also present, on the part of the bosses.
The meeting was called to order at 7:35
by Horace Bell. Dr. Sinsabaugh was made Chairman and G. F. Rutan Secretary.

Horace Bell said he was gratified to see so large a turnout—it was the best he had even seen in the ward, and he gne sed he was the oldest resident there. He announced that the County Central Committee has called caucuses for all the wards on Friday night, to nominate delegates to be voted for on Saturday. He hoped the caucuses would be largely attended, and that the delegations to the County Convention would go absolutely unpledged. This being the case, it would be bester for the meeting not to nominate a ticket now, as had been intended.

J. O. Daly thought the chief object of the meeting was to organize a ward club, canvass the ward thoroughly, keep the interest alive, and get out the baggest Hepublican vote the ward ever gave. He moved to make a permanent organization with the present officers.

moved to make a permanent organization with the present officers.

Horace Bell thought it premature to organize before the County Convention has done its work.

Assistant District Attorney George W.

Knox did not agree with Bell. "The primaries are called for next Saturday; the convention for the 21st. We have but a short time before us, and our preliminary work should not be delayed. There is a large representation of Republicans here to-night, and instead of delaying effective work, we should organize our club this evening."
